

Faculty Profile

Full Name: Aliza Shakeel

Position/ Designation: Lab Instructor

Faculty/Department: Computer Science

Email Address: Aliza.shakeel@nhu.edu.pk

Short Introduction

Aliza Shakeel is a dedicated and innovative Lab Instructor in the Computer Science Department at NHU University. With a solid academic foundation in Computer Science and extensive hands-on experience in data analysis, programming, and software testing, she excels in guiding students through technical and practical challenges. Aliza is passionate about fostering an engaging and collaborative learning environment that prepares students for real-world applications in computing and analytics.

Experience

Internee

ZRG International (June 2023 – August 2024)

- Performed Software Quality Assurance (SQA) tasks, including test case creation, bug identification, and performance evaluation.
- Contributed to database performance management, data validation, and system documentation.

Educational Information

- Bachelor of Computer Science (2019–2023)
Usman Institute of Technology, affiliated with NED University
- Intermediate in Engineering (2017–2019)
Bahria College NORE-1

Achievements

- Successfully led a training program, empowering participants with practical skills in modern technologies.
- Delivered impactful lab sessions at NHU University, fostering technical expertise in Database and Programming Fundamentals among students.
- Played a vital role in the development and testing of the Pet-A-Pet application, demonstrating proficiency in app integration and quality assurance.